HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

The College of Mount Saint Vincent, a four-year, coeducational, liberal arts college is a private, independent institution in the Catholic tradition and the spirit of the Sisters of Charity, with a total enrollment of approximately 1,600 full-time and part-time students representing various religious, racial and ethnic backgrounds.

Founded in 1847 as an academy for women by the Sisters of Charity of New York, it was originally located on an upper Fifth Avenue tract that is now part of Central Park. In 1857, the Academy of Mount Saint Vincent purchased Fonthill, the Forrest estate overlooking the Hudson River in the Riverdale section of the Bronx. Fonthill Castle, built by Shakespearean actor Edwin Forrest, still stands on the campus.

With the opening of freshmen and sophomore classes in 1910, the Academy expanded into an independent four-year liberal arts college. In 1911, the Regents of the University of the State of New York amended the charter of the Academy of Mount Saint Vincent, changing its corporate name to the College of Mount Saint Vincent and permitting it to confer baccalaureate degrees. In 1988 the Regents of the University of the State of New York further amended the charter of the College of Mount Saint Vincent permitting it to confer Master of Science degrees.

Since the first eight degrees were awarded in 1913, the College has conferred over 15,000 degrees with approximately 400 being awarded annually.

The College's development over the years includes the expansion of its curriculum with graduate programs in Nursing, Urban and Multicultural Education, Business Administration, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), and the addition of advanced certificate programs. The campus has also expanded over the years by such additions to its physical plant as the two modern residence halls and the Elizabeth Seton Library, which houses 150,375 volumes, 544 periodicals, and 7,544 microforms. In 1972, the College introduced a Division of Continuing Education for adults, and in 1992 the College awarded its first graduate degree, the Master of Science in Nursing. Post-baccalaureate degree programs, bachelor's degree program for adults, and all non-credit continuing education and professional programs were unified under the School of Professional & Continuing Studies in 2005.

General Information

MISSION STATEMENT of the COLLEGE

Founded by the Sisters of Charity of New York, the College of Mount Saint Vincent is an academically excellent, authentically inclusive, Catholic and ecumenical liberal arts college. The College combines a strong core curriculum with a full array of majors in the liberal arts and, within the tradition of liberal education, selected professional fields of study.

At Mount Saint Vincent, a student's education extends beyond knowledge, skills, and preparation for work. We seek the development of the whole person. In the spirit of Vincent de Paul and Elizabeth Ann Seton, we foster an understanding of our common humanity, a commitment to human dignity, and a full appreciation of our obligations to each other.

Through its School of Professional and Continuing Studies, the College extends its primary undergraduate mission by offering high quality graduate studies in business, education and nursing and an array of undergraduate and certificate programs serving non-traditional students.

MISSION STATEMENT OF THE GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Graduate study at the College of Mount Saint Vincent complements and enhances the undergraduate programs, and serves the general community. In addition, each graduate program builds on a liberal arts foundation and is consistent with the mission of the College. The College offers graduate programs designed to provide students the opportunity for academic excellence and professional leadership. As a community of scholars, the College provides a stimulating environment that fosters intellectual curiosity and a free exchange of ideas. Our programs reflect a commitment to service. Students are encouraged to continue the development of critical thinking and to acquire an advanced body of knowledge and skills in their respective disciplines.

GRADUATE PROGRAM ORGANIZATION

The College's graduate programs are offered through the School of Professional & Continuing Studies, an integral but separate unit of the College. Graduate programs are supervised by the Dean of the School of Professional & Continuing Studies, the Vice President for Academic Affairs and each program's Department Chair/Director. While a Director is in charge of each program's curriculum and policies and assists students in planning their academic programs, the chief administrator of the department is ultimately responsible for all decisions concerning the Graduate program(s) and is, in turn, accountable to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, who is the chief academic administrator of the College.

The Graduate Committee of the College administers the policies governing all graduate programs. The Graduate Committee of the College recommends new programs, courses, and policies to the College Senate. These are then approved by the Provost and by the President.

MATRICULATION

There are three categories of student enrollment: matriculant, conditional matriculant and non-matriculant.

Matriculant

A student who wishes to pursue a graduate certificate or degree program, meets all requirements for admission to a particular program, and has been formally admitted to that program.

Conditional Matriculant

A student who has applied to matriculate for a particular program, obtains approval to enroll, but must satisfy a set of specified matriculation requirements before or upon completion of twelve credits.

Non-Matriculant

A student who has not applied to matriculate in a particular program, obtains approval to enroll, and is limited to a maximum of 12 graduate credits.

TRANSFER CREDIT

Individual programs have specific requirements for the number and type of credits accepted. Requests for approval of transfer credit must be made at the time of application for admission. Grades earned at another institution will not be used in determining a student's cumulative grade point average at the College of Mount Saint Vincent.

1. For credits previously earned either at the College of Mount Saint Vincent or at another institution: A course in a College of Mount Saint Vincent's Master's degree program may be waived if a course(s) previously taken is sufficiently similar to a course in the College of Mount Saint Vincent's graduate program.
2. Usually, a maximum of twelve graduate credits previously earned in a graduate program may be transferred into a College of Mount Saint Vincent graduate degree program, provided the course(s) are approved for transfer credit by the Director of the graduate program as part of the admission process. For the Master's degree program in Urban & Multicultural Education, however, the maximum number of transferable graduate credits is six.
3. A specified number of graduate credits earned at the College of Mount Saint Vincent while a student is completing the requirements for a Bachelor's degree may also be applied toward a graduate degree, provided the specific courses are accepted by the Director of the graduate program upon admission.
4. Decisions on the transfer of credits into a graduate program under these rules require, in every case, the approval of the Director of the program on a course-by-course basis. The Director's review and determination will take into account such factors as course content, the time elapsed since the course was completed, the unique characteristics of the College of Mount Saint Vincent program, and the total number of credits to be completed at the College of Mount Saint Vincent.

REGISTRATION

Students are required to register for courses during the registration period specified for each term. Continuing students in good standing may register on-line. The dates and places of registration for each session are indicated on the schedule of courses posted by the College (see the College web site). Students are considered registered when they have received both an approved schedule from the Registrar and a Bursar's receipt. All students who are in attendance during the term preceding the one for which they wish to register will receive notification of registration.

Students taking courses offsite through the Graduate Program in Urban & Multicultural Education do not follow the College's usual registration procedures. Instead, offsite students register for their classes by completing registration forms and making or arranging for payment of tuition and fees through the course instructor during the first class session of the semester.

HEALTH RECORD REQUIREMENTS

New York State Public Health Law 2165 requires post-secondary students born on or after January 1, 1957 to provide proof of immunization for measles, mumps, and rubella prior to registration and attending classes. All full- and part-time students are required to provide proof of immunization prior to registering for classes. A student who fails to submit proof of immunization by the end of the first semester will not be allowed to register again until such proof is submitted to the College Health Center. All nursing students who register for a practicum/clinical course must submit a completed health history and physical examination form. Any student who fails to complete this requirement is not permitted to register for the practicum/clinical course. Information regarding these requirements can be obtained at the College's Health Center by calling 718-405-3472. New York State Public Health Law 2167 pertains to all college students enrolled for six or more credits per semester.

The College of Mount Saint Vincent is required to maintain for each student:

- A response to receipt of meningococcal disease and vaccine information signed by the student or student's parent or guardian. This must include information on the availability and cost of meningococcal meningitis vaccine (Menomune)

AND EITHER

- A record of meningococcal meningitis immunization within the past ten years, OR
- An acknowledgement of meningococcal disease risks and refusal of meningococcal meningitis immunization signed by the student or student's parent or guardian.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT

A faculty advisor will be made available to the student for academic matters (e.g., registration, selection of courses) during the course of the Graduate Program. Students are encouraged to meet with their academic advisor at least once a semester. It is the responsibility of the student to make this appointment.

COURSE CHANGES

Adding or withdrawing from a course must be accomplished in the Registrar's Office. All adds and drops must be approved by the student's advisor or the Director/Chairperson of the Graduate Program. Courses cannot be added after the second scheduled class session. Students who drop a course without adding a course are subject to the refund policy as stated in this Catalogue. There is a fee charged to students who drop a course after classes begin.

WITHDRAWAL FROM A COURSE

A student who wishes to withdraw from a course, without academic penalty, must meet with their academic advisor and complete a withdrawal form and pay the fee no later than the dates specified in the College calendar at the front of the catalogue. It is not sufficient to simply inform the instructor. Students who do not follow this procedure are responsible for course fees, and will receive a grade of "F." Courses dropped after the specified dates will be assigned a grade of "WF" and entered on the student's permanent record (transcript).

CONTINUOUS MATRICULATION

Any matriculated graduate student who fails to enroll for consecutive semesters, or three consecutive trimesters, must then pay a continuing matriculation fee for each subsequent semester or trimester in order to maintain matriculated status.

Payment of this fee enables a student to ensure continuing status as a matriculated student, to continue to receive all student correspondence, and to maintain library and other campus privileges. A Continuous Matriculation/Leave of Absence form must be submitted with the fee. Failure to maintain matriculation will result in a student's termination from the program. To be reinstated, a student will need to meet the admissions criteria and degree requirements in effect at the time of reinstatement.

GRADE REPORTS

At the end of each session, students are able to access their course grades and view their academic records online by using their College of Mount Saint Vincent I.D. number. However, grades are viewable online only by those students whose financial accounts have been settled. Students can print out copies of the grade reports.

TRANSCRIPTS

Official and unofficial transcripts should be requested from the Office of the Registrar, either in person or by mail. The Office of the Registrar cannot comply with telephone requests. All obligations to the College must be fulfilled before transcripts will be issued. (See Tuition and Fees Section of this Catalogue).

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To earn a Master's degree, a student must:

1. Be formally admitted (matriculated) to a degree program;
2. Complete the number of credits required by the graduate program;
3. Maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0;
4. Complete all the requirements for the degree.

DEGREE TIME LIMITS

All degree requirements for programs of 36 credits or less must be completed within five years from the initial semester of matriculation. All degree requirements for programs of more than 36 credits must be completed within eight years. The initial semester of matriculation is the semester in which the student is approved for matriculation. Extension of this time limit may be granted due to unusual circumstances upon written request to the Chairperson/ Director of the Graduate Program. Candidates are responsible for planning their programs to assure the completion of all requirements within the stipulated period.

TERMINATION OF MATRICULATION/REGISTRATION

The Office of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education in collaboration with individual Program Directors reserves the right at any time to terminate matriculation if the student fails to make sufficient progress towards the degree or to cancel a student's registration if he/she is registered for courses for which he/she does not have the prerequisites.

CONFERRAL OF DEGREES

Degrees are granted three times a year: the last Friday in August, the last Friday in January, and at the annual Commencement Exercises in May.

APPLICATION FOR A DEGREE

A candidate for the award of a Master's degree must file a graduation application and must pay the graduation fee by the deadline established by the Registrar. If the degree is not earned, a renewal of application is to be filed for reconsideration of the degree award.

GRADES

The College's grading scale is:

Grade	Quality Points	Grade	Quality Points
A	Excellent	4.0	C-	Unacceptable	1.67
A-		3.67	D+	Unacceptable	1.33
B+	Very Good	3.33	D	Unacceptable	1.0
B	Good	3.0	D-	Unacceptable	0.67
B-		2.67	F	Failure	0
C+	Pass	2.33	P	Passing
C	Passing-	2.0	NC	No Credit	0
	but below level		IP	In-Progress	0
	expected of a		I	Incomplete	0
	Graduate Student		W	Withdrew / permission	0

A grade of Incomplete is used when, for reasons satisfactory to the instructor, certain course assignments remain outstanding. Work must be completed by the end of the following semester or the grade of Incomplete becomes an "F" on the transcript. Extensions of time for completion, based on compelling reasons, may be granted by the Chairperson or the Director of the Graduate Program.

In-Progress (IP grade) may be used only for completion of an acceptable Master's project or thesis. The criteria for applying for an IP grade are available from the Director of the program.

ACADEMIC STANDING

Students are expected to maintain a minimum index of 3.0 (B). Students who receive a grade below B in a graduate course may be required to repeat that course. When a student's cumulative grade point average (GPA) falls below 3.0, the student will be placed on academic probation. Students on probation are limited to six credits per semester. Students whose GPA falls below 3.0 for the following semester will be placed on terminal academic probation. Students who fail to earn a cumulative 3.0 GPA by the end of the third semester will be dismissed from the College. Any appeals to such action will be considered by the Program Director and the Chair of the Department or designee.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

The College of Mount Saint Vincent maintains and affirms a strong policy of academic honesty. Every member of the academic community has a duty to neither cheat nor condone cheating. Principles of honesty should be reflected in all aspects of student work, including examinations, research papers, laboratory work, oral reports, logs and all work submitted in fulfillment of course requirements. These principles also apply to the borrowing and careful use of library and all other learning material, and to the expectation that a student's work is his/her own work and not the prior work of others.

Plagiarism is the act of passing off as one's own the words or ideas of another. Plagiarism is considered to be a serious form of academic dishonesty. The following description of plagiarism should serve as a guide for graduate student work:

“Plagiarism may take the form of repeating another's sentences as your own, paraphrasing someone else's argument as you own, or even presenting someone else's line of thinking in the development of a thesis as though it were your own. In short, to plagiarize is to give the impression that you have written or thought something that you have in fact borrowed from another. Although a writer may use other persons' words and thoughts, they must be acknowledged as such.”
(MLA Handbook)

Examinations, papers, laboratory work, oral reports, logs, and any other materials submitted in fulfillment of course requirements must be the student's work. All types of academic fraud – including the illicit giving and receiving of information on tests, the presentation of false data, plagiarism, and multiple submissions are therefore subject to the following penalties: The first offense is punishable by an “F” in the test or paper. A record of the incident shall be kept on file for the period of the student's matriculation. A subsequent offense in the same or any other course shall be punishable by an “F” in the course. A third offense will result in academic dismissal from the College.

COLLEGE ACADEMIC GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

All academic grievances including dissatisfaction with a grade must be addressed first to the faculty member, then to the Department Chairperson and subsequently to the Dean of the School of Professional and Continuing Studies.

When all other means of resolving a problematic situation have been exhausted, a student may request a grievance hearing for certain course related issues. Requests for a hearing should be made in writing to the Dean of the School of Professional and Continuing Studies within ten (10) days of the alleged grievance. When jurisdiction is in doubt, a student may notify and/or consult with either the Provost/Dean of the Faculty or the Vice-President for Student Affairs. Requests for grievance hearings on course related decisions must be made as soon as possible.

The Grievance Committee may consider matters with regard to allegations that a student is being graded unfairly in the classroom. The grievance committee will only convene when all other means of resolving a problematic situation have been exhausted and one or more of the following apply:

- A final grade is clearly inconsistent with grades earned over the course of the term in the same course.
- Egregious computational errors are evident.
- The actual evaluation measure and grading criteria were not clearly articulated on the course syllabus.

COMPOSITION OF THE GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE

The Grievance Committee is composed of:

- Two members of the faculty, chosen by the student/complainant (including at least one who has taught in one of the graduate programs at the College);
- Two members of the faculty, chosen by the Dean of the School of Professional and Continuing Studies (including at least one who has taught in one of the graduate programs at the College);
- One other member of the College community either an Academic Affairs or Student Affairs administrator

CHARGE OF THE COMMITTEE

The Committee shall meet, hear the complaint, call witnesses and conduct investigations as it deems appropriate, deliberate in private and present its conclusions to the Provost /Dean of Faculty and the complainant. The decision of the Committee shall be binding, subject only to veto by the Provost.

Note: When an ex-officio or selected member of the committee has privileged information or prior dealings with the case or the student such that questions could be raised regarding his/her impartiality, an appropriate substitution must be made.

CAMPUS SAFETY

The Committee on Student Life, serving as the Advisory Committee on Campus Safety, will provide upon request all campus crime statistics as reported to the United States Department of Education. Campus crime statistics are published on the United States Department of Education Web site <http://ope.ed.gov/security> and may also be obtained by contacting the Director of Security at (718) 405-3722.

STUDENT EDUCATION RECORDS – ACCESS AND PRIVACY

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the College receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the College to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the College decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the College will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

(3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by The College of Mount Saint Vincent in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the College has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by The College of Mount Saint Vincent to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202-8520

DIRECTORY INFORMATION

Directory information, which under the provisions of the Act noted above, may be released at the College's discretion unless a specific request for exclusion from disclosure is made. MISSION/ PHILOSOPHY of MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION:

The Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) at the College of Mount Saint Vincent builds on the College's strong undergraduate business programs, while focusing on the traditional areas of emphasis of the College, on its mission and philosophy, and on its culture. The College of Mount Saint Vincent is well known for its graduates who have entered professional careers in education, charities, religious communities, health care, and community service. Indeed, the College's organizational culture has always emphasized the worth of the individual, the value of a caring community, the strength of diversity, a principled respect for others, and the centrality of spirituality and ethics.

The College's graduate program in business administration fits well with the College's heritage, its mission, and its values. At the same time, the M.B.A. degree program is designed to serve the College's primary constituents: (1) its graduates, now in professional service careers, who are interested in graduate degree programs in management, and (2) the institutions and organizations with which the College has built strong fellowship over the years -- organizations which would benefit significantly from managers and leaders trained in the primary areas of business operations and prepared for careers in professional management.

The character and composition of the graduate program in business administration sets it apart from existing business graduate programs. The MBA program inherits the traditions and values of the College of Mount Saint Vincent. The program's structure is designed so as to have those principles embedded deeply in the curriculum. As such, the College of Mount Saint Vincent's graduate program in business administration has a rich and unique character, focusing on the areas of community service, leadership, organizational culture, diversity, ethics, and the centrality of the individual in organizational process. The Mission of the College of Mount Saint Vincent's MBA program is to graduate principled leaders – leaders who value people and community, and who are uniquely equipped to lead our institutions into the next century as stewards of the human and spiritual values that form the character of our society's most responsible organizations.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES:

(a) To provide a solid education in organizational management, grounded on fundamental skills in business, in order to prepare students for leadership positions in a variety of complex organizations whose mission is focused on community service, education, health care, not-for-profit work, or human resource management.

(b) To provide management training for professionals in careers in the service sector, especially in the fields of education, health, community service agencies and organizations, charities, religious organizations, and human services.

(c) To provide an opportunity for advanced training in managerial skills and leadership development to those graduates of the College of Mount Saint Vincent's undergraduate business programs who have used their Bachelor's degree in Business Administration to enter careers in management within fields closely associated with the College's history, traditions, and mission.

(d) To respond to the need for professionally trained managers with a solid understanding of business and its related processes in organizations not traditionally considered "businesses" but whose success, growth, and future security depend to an ever increasing degree on leaders with sharp business acumen.

COURSE WAIVERS FOR PRIOR STUDY

Applicants may waive up to 24 of the required 60 credits based on appropriate undergraduate coursework in business administration.

CURRICULUM:

The MBA degree program requires the completion of 60 credits. The curriculum model for the Master of Business Administration degree follows a traditional framework used throughout the United States for M.B.A. programs, which has become standardized at Schools of Business. The program begins with a set of Core Requirements (the “Common Professional Component”) ensuring that students in the program will have familiarity with the fundamental areas of business practice and competency and will be able to apply a standard set of professional skills considered to be the baseline for persons entering careers in management or entering a program of advanced study. Following this “basic training”, students will select an area of specialization, called a concentration, from the four (management & organizational behavior, health care management, and international business, or the comprehensive business track) offered in this program. Each area of concentration requires 18 credits of advanced coursework with a narrow focus on a particular career area. At the end of the program, students complete a set of capstone courses which cover the areas of business strategy, professional ethics, and global issues. The final curriculum component involves an applied business project, called the “Business Decision Laboratory”.

Since MBA programs are traditionally designed to permit an individual with any undergraduate major to enter and complete the program, it must contain courses covering the basic areas of business competency, such as marketing and accounting. Undergraduate business majors, however, may be waived from up to 24 credits in this core MBA curriculum. The Chair of the Department will determine course waivers on a case by case basis. Generally, the undergraduate studies in business must have been completed with a grade of B or better.

Undergraduate business majors at CMSV may pursue a 5 year (4+1) BS / MBA program through careful planning with academic advisors from both programs.

The M.B.A. Core

The Common Professional Component for the M.B.A. program is designed so as to establish a conceptual foundation for the remaining courses in the graduate program. The core courses provide students with a firm theoretical and empirical knowledge base in the primary functional areas of business practice and organizational leadership. The areas of knowledge covered include each of the areas of business practice required by the ACBSP as essential to any program of business training at the 4-year level or above. The second goal of the core is to develop in students the necessary skills of data collection, analysis, interpretation and communication. A third goal of the core courses is to provide the conceptual and theoretical knowledge base for advanced study in an area of specialization.

M.B.A. Concentrations

The choice of concentrations for the proposed M.B.A. program was made with considerable care in order to accomplish several goals:

First, the areas of concentration represent a good “fit” with the College’s heritage, its mission, and its traditional areas of strength. The College has always focused on service careers and areas of community involvement (as a direct outgrowth of the spirit of the Sisters of Charity) and includes in its mission a focus on developing in its graduates, “a sense of responsibility for their world, and a practical urgency to be influences for good”. It is highly appropriate, therefore, that although the proposed program offers advanced training in business, program concentrations focus on nonprofit organizations, health care, education, and human services.

Second, the concentrations in the M.B.A. program have been selected in recognition of the established strengths of the College – areas of academic study for which the College has received public recognition and for which it has become well known. Therefore, it is “natural” for the proposed program to include concentrations in health and international studies.

Third, the selected areas of concentration match well the areas of professional practice of many of the graduates of the Business Department’s undergraduate programs. Since the College has become closely associated with community service agencies over its history, a significant number of business graduates have taken positions with health care employers, school systems, and nonprofit organizations. Others have accepted employment with standard for-profit employers, but have built careers around human resource management, reflecting the College’s emphasis on developing, in its graduates, respect for the individual and concern for the human dimension of organizational practice.

The following areas of concentration, therefore, “fit” well the College’s strengths, its mission, and the needs of its constituents.

(i) Management and Organizational Behavior

This concentration focuses on organizational issues that often determine the effectiveness or the failure of an organization’s programs and operations. Courses investigate the impact of a number of influences on organizational process, such as the current expansion of Diversity within organizations, and the heightened focus today on Organizational Culture. Other courses study the objectives and effectiveness of programs designed to Manage Quality, and investigate the availability of useful tools for Managing the Process of Organizational Change. Leadership Development and the theories of Individual and Group Behavior in Organizations are also areas of advanced study.

The concentration would be appropriate for professionals in a variety of management or supervisory positions who seek to develop skills that will be useful in guiding the organizational processes that will determine success in the next decade.

(ii) Health Care Management

The concentration in Health Care Management will prepare students for general management positions in a variety of health care agencies, but especially for positions associated with the traditional business functions – such as financial control, human resource management, program marketing, public relations, quality control, customer relations, and budgeting. The conceptual basis of this concentration is the view that modern business influences, pressures, practices, and systems are increasingly becoming part of the fabric and structure of America’s health care community, and therefore, future leaders in this sector must bring to their careers sharpened skills in the traditional areas of business practice.

(iii) International Business

This concentration is intended primarily for persons in business careers who are interested in developing a broader understanding of the practices, structures and systems that determine the contours of global commerce today. It is especially appropriate for individuals who have established a career in a U.S. business organization, and want to become more involved in the organization's foreign activities. The program would also be appropriate for foreign students who desire an American M.B.A. degree, but intend to use the knowledge gained through study in this country to advance their careers back home.

M.B.A. Capstone Courses

The M.B.A. program concludes with a set of required courses designed to complete the areas of core competencies and to provide a unifying experience requiring the application of the student's acquired knowledge to an appropriate case study.

Capstone Courses 12 credits

|----------------|--|
| MBA 701 | Organizational Leadership, Ethics and Social Responsibility |
| MBA 702 | Strategic Management |
| MBA 703 | Competing in a Global Business Environment |

The first three of these represent traditional coursework in Business Ethics, Business Strategy/Policy, and International Business. The fourth course is the capstone project requiring the student to work in a team setting with other students, and to conduct primary research, evaluate, and analyze a specific business problem and then to formulate, present, and defend a set of recommended actions in the case.

Each organization has an invisible quality -- a certain style, a character, a way of doing things -- that may be more powerful than the dictates of any person or any formal system. This course attempts to understand the “soul of the organization” -- its culture -- and how cultures are formed, maintained, and changed. The course also explores possible relationships between organizational culture and performance; the relationship between organizational culture and ethical behavior; the challenge of managing the culture’s influence on organizational process; and finally, how organizations socialize individuals to their particular culture. The relationship of spirituality to organizational culture is also considered.

MBA 666 – Executive Development and Principle Centered Leadership 3 credits

As organizations prepare to face the challenges of the new millennium, they look toward their executives for vision, innovation and integrity. The development of individuals who can provide such leadership is a constant, relentless effort within corporation today. This course is an opportunity to see how organizations shape leaders. With focus on both the theoretical and practical aspects of executive development, this course enables students to understand and facilitate organizational efforts aimed at improving executive capabilities. The course will also evaluate the current literature on the concept of being a “principle-centered” leader and whether identifiable individual characteristics influence an executive’s ability to inspire people, build teamwork, and contribute positively to organizational success.

CAPSTONE COURSES

MBA 701 – Organizational Leadership, Ethics and Social Responsibility 3 credits

This course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to investigate the social responsibility of business, manners in which business leaders and managers deal with ethical issues, and the role of business professionals in the process of guiding (stewarding) the organization in the ways in which it is willing to acknowledge its influential role in the community and design efforts to respond to the important problems in that community.

MBA 702 – Strategic Management 3 credits

This course is intended as a capstone course in the MBA program, integrating the various courses in the curriculum as the learning accomplished through the Core Courses and the electives in the student's area of concentration is applied to the process of strategy formation and case review.

As students study the process of strategic management, they will focus on the tasks of crafting, implementing, and executing an organization's strategy. Strategy is grounded in the array of competitive moves and business approaches management depends on to produce successful performance. The study of strategy, then, considers management's game plan for strengthening the organization's position, pleasing its customers, and achieving performance targets. Students will learn how managers devise strategies to guide how the company's business will be conducted and to help them make reasoned, cohesive choices among alternative courses of action.

MBA 703 – Competing in a Global Business Environment 3 credits

This course is intended as a vehicle for producing students who will be comfortable and effective in a worldwide marketplace. Today, all students -- even those who will never have an overseas assignment -- need to be knowledgeable about the global economy. Students must develop "cultural literacy" in international business. As a business professional, they must be able to talk knowledgeably with a visiting executive from a French multinational corporation or to understand and analyze the impact on themselves and their firm of trade negotiations with Japan, devaluation of the Mexican peso, economic growth in China or Brazil, or the collapse of a British bank. It is the purpose of this course to provide such a foundation for future managers who must function in a global competitive environment.

MBA 704 – MBA Decision Laboratory 3 credits

This course provides an opportunity to apply academic knowledge through participation in a managerial task within an organization (such as setting up a purchasing cooperative, devising an inventory system, developing cost-benefit analyses of a New York City agency program). In other cases, it may be appropriate for students to work outside a business setting on a research-oriented project that has applied objectives. The thrust of the creative response here is toward solving an actual operating problem. In a graduate business program, performance of this type of task is an appropriate way to further develop the knowledge and skills acquired in academic learning.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN URBAN & MULTICULTURAL EDUCATION

The Master of Science Degree in Urban and Multicultural Education has been approved and is registered with the New York State Higher Education Department, under the IPEDS code of 0899.

PROGRAM PHILOSOPHY

The Master of Science in Urban and Multicultural Education is a values-centered program reflecting the belief that learning and culture are inseparable, as are relationships among learner, teacher, environment, and purpose for learning. Educators need to understand the cultures of all children, adolescents, and families through conscientious study and personal interaction. Accordingly, educators must have the appropriate knowledge, skills, and attitude necessary to teach effectively in all school systems, especially in metropolitan area systems where the populations are more culturally diverse.

Consistent with the College mission, the Graduate Program is based on a belief in commitment to service, especially to diverse populations. All young learners have the right to an education appropriate to their individual needs and an education that acknowledges their culture, race, socioeconomic background, and the language of their home.

Graduate education serves to provide teachers with opportunities to pursue academic excellence and professional leadership. This program in Urban and Multicultural Education prepares teachers to assume leadership positions as knowledgeable practitioners who can provide productive learning environments in multicultural and multilingual classrooms and schools.

The Graduate program is designed to allow part-time students to pursue and complete their graduate studies typically within two years. Accelerated study is possible based on course offerings and the academic status of the student.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

1. Articulate a philosophy of teaching which reflects a commitment to the development of self and others and the advancement of the teaching profession.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN TEACHING ENGLISH TO SPEAKERS OF OTHER LANGUAGES (TESOL)

PROGRAM PHILOSOPHY

The Master of Science Program in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages at the College of Mount Saint Vincent is designed to prepare prospective teachers of English language learners from Pre-Kindergarten through grade 12 who wish to work in a variety of public, private, suburban, and rural settings. Candidates holding initial certification in a discipline other than TESOL fulfill the academic requirements for professional certification in that area while simultaneously fulfilling the academic requirements for initial certification in TESOL.

The curriculum provides a strong foundation in both first and second language acquisition with discrete focus on the acquisition of English in particular. By addressing the linguistic, cognitive, psychological, cultural and sociological realities of English language learners, future elementary, middle and high school teachers of English as a second language are professionally empowered to educate a diverse group of learners, thereby adding a very necessary certification to those already offered at the College.

Students educated in the M.S. in TESOL Program will become sensitized to language acquisition issues throughout their course of study, identifying those issues as they relate to their respective personal language learning experiences and to those of their classmates and prospective students. The faculty aspires that students acquire an understanding of the relationship between language, culture and learning so as to develop the skills to effectively serve English language learners in a variety of settings.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

Graduates of the program in TESOL are able to:

1. Articulate acquired knowledge of first and second language acquisition
2. Elaborate the cognitive, psychological, cultural and sociological realities of second language learners
3. Apply this acquired knowledge to develop effective pedagogy for English Language Learners

Although English-language learners have not acquired English as a first language, they have access to Universal Grammar which programs human beings to understand what is possible with all languages. Hence, the knowledge that we all possess subconsciously facilitates the learning of a second language when brought to conscious awareness. Prescriptive versus descriptive language will be examined throughout the course in light of structures to be studied and how they manifest themselves in everyday usage.

EDUC 506 - Language, Cognitive Development, and Cultural Diversity 3 credits

This course examines cognitive development and language acquisition across cultures. Through the supplemental use of various technologies, the course focuses on issues of bilingualism and dialectal difference and their relationship to language development. This course explores language diversity as it relates to classroom instruction.

EDUC 722 - Teaching English as a Second Language I

3 credits

This course provides an introduction to the theoretical foundations of second language acquisition that includes an examination of theories and research findings and their applicability to classroom practice. Course work also involves a review of relevant psycholinguistic and socio-linguistic research.

EDUC 725 - Teaching Across the Content Areas: Methods of TESOL Grades PreK-12 3 credits

This course develops the skills and knowledge necessary to teach science, mathematics and social studies to English Language Learners. Curriculum & Materials in TESOL is designed to provide a general introduction to the design and role of curriculum and materials in standards-based ESL/EFL and content instruction. In its focus on curriculum, the course begins with the assessment of learners' needs and the development of appropriate curriculum based on those needs. In the design of that curriculum, sub-topics including the setting of goals and objectives, choice of syllabus type, integrating standards and content, teaching methodology and assessment will be covered. The focus on materials includes a survey of options and criteria for their evaluation. This course will feature hands-on activities, authentic materials, curricula and assessment tools.

EDUC 726 - Assessment in English as a Second Language 3 credits

This course includes an examination of procedures and instruments, standardized and informal, used in second language instruction programs. Instruction in design and use of instruments will be addressed. The role of assessment as an integral part of instruction will also be explored.
